Doings of the City Council

The High Point Hardware Co. asked the privilege of installing a gasoline tank at its place of business. Granted.

Messrs. J. E. Kirkman and A. F. Eshelman, appointed appraisers on the Carrick property, were before the Board as per request, and reported that the third man couldn't be agreed upon, therefore no progress.

SHORT TELEGRAPH ITEMS

Judge Cline yesterday denied the motion of counsel for Gaston B. Mans to force Assistant District Attorney John T. Dooling of New York to surrender to officers of the Cabarrus county Superior Court certain papers alleged to have been seized in Mans' apartments in New York.

Prison sentences stare the coal barons and operators in the face who fail to obey the law fixing coal prices.

The German military machine shows a decided weakening the past month, due to the continued pounding by the allies.

SOME PUMPKIN

The largest pumpkin seen in this section in many years is now on exhibition. It was raised by J. A. Langley, Greensboro, Route 3, from King of Mammoth seed bought of the Scott Seed Company last spring. It weighs 104 pounds and is as large around as a barrel.

STILL DESTROYED

Sheriff D. B. Stafford, accompanied by Deputies Joe Phipps, J. A. Hobbs and M. D. Caffey, Saturday captured a 35-gallon copper still and 40 feet of worm in Sumner township, about a quarter of a mile from the main road leading to Asheboro. They also destroyed 300 gallons of beer and brought back four gallons of singlings, 18 empty gallon jugs and two coats belonging to the owners.

DYNAMITE FOUND AT CAPITOL?

It was rumored Thursday afternoon that a large stick of dynamite, quite sufficient to seriously damage the Capitol building, was found planted near the Governor's office at Raleigh. Wm. C. Horton unearthed the find, it is said, while passing the Capitol. He reported his discovery to the proper official and the reliable confirmation of the rumor was that Adjutant-General Young had presented Secretary Martin a part of a fuse as a souvenir. What Mr. Martin wants with the fuse he did not say.

The dynamite question recalls a scare the police had several weeks ago when 32 sticks of explosives were found near the viaduct. The bundle of dynamite was found on a day when three companies of State troops left Raleigh for Camp Sevier. An investigation of one day was continued into a week before it was learned definitely that the dynamite was stolen from a Southern Railway freight car.

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER LIBERTY BONDS

President J. Elwood Cox of the National Bank Section of the American Bankers Association and of the Commercial National Bank of this city, says that "the Liberty Loan is the best paper on the market today and that he will take $100,000 of the loan." Mr. Cox further states that the bankers of the country stand solidly behind the government and that all will work unceasingly for the entire issue. While away Mr. Cox heard several notable men speak from this and other countries. The speech of Secretary McAdoo was a very fine exposition of the reasons why the United States entered the war. It's a question of supplying the government with your money at a good rate of interest or having to foot the bill by taxation, and certainly the people should be glad of a chance to secure the bonds. Mr. Cox will immediately launch a campaign to raise a big amount for the second issue of the Liberty bonds.

The banks of the city close Thursday for the Greensboro fair.

A "HENRYFORD" STOLEN

Sunday night Belvin Harmon drove his "Henryford" in front of Wesley Memorial M. E. church and left it to the cruel world while he went inside to learn of things not so earthly. In the meantime some one (or perhaps two of them) took possession and soon the little gas wagon was headed towards the good roads in the direction of Greensboro, because there is where the machine was found the next day.

Belvin prides himself on keeping his "Henry" in spick and span condition, free from oil, grease and dust spots and shining like a new dollar, but horrible to mention when they found the machine it was all "mussed up," and many of its necessary and vital parts removed, little resembling its former self. In fact so badly was it dismantled that the poor little creature could not get up steam and proudly sniff the air at a 25-mile gait as it would like to have done on its return trip to the best town in the State and to its former careful considerate owner. It was "busted" as the darkey remarked. The question is "who took and despoiled the machine?"

MODERN FIRE TRUCK PURCHASED

The new truck cost $9,750 and will be delivered within 60 days. A small amount, less than $1,000, was allowed for the old Seagraves truck.

MRS. FLORA NORWOOD DEAD

The editor and family attended the funeral Sunday afternoon at Mt. Pleasant church of a well-known and respected lady who formerly resided in that section, Mrs. Flora Norwood, wife of J. C. Norwood, who died Friday night at her home in Thomasville. Deceased before marriage about 15 years ago was Miss Flora Hoover. Besides her husband she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. J. A. Green and Mrs. Lizzie Guyer of Thomasville, Mrs. Trece Livengood of Mt. Pleasant, and three brothers, Messrs. D. E., G. M. and C. A. Hoover of Thomasville. Mrs. Norwood was about 60 years of age and was a victim of cancer, which was caused by an accident some years ago, it is thought.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Goode of Thomasville and the Rev. Sanford of Mt. Pleasant, M. E. ministers, and the pastor of the Reformed church at Thomasville. The interment occurred in the burying ground at Mt. Pleasant, in which neighborhood the deceased was raised. The floral offerings were very pretty and a large crowd attended the funeral. The church could not hold the crowd.

Mrs. Norwood was universally liked, a Christian woman and performed much work for her Master and fellow-beings. As a good woman told the writer Sunday, "Flora was like a mother to the motherless and a friend to all. She was always cheerful and gave more concern to the welfare of others than herself, and her old friends and acquaintances feel a personal loss in her passing."

BY GEORGE FITCH
THE WEATHER

The weather is the starting crank of the world's conversation. If there were no weather to talk about, half of us would only be able to converse when we found something to say, and would consequently be dumb a good large part of the time.

The weather is what the atmosphere hands to us from day to day. All weather is produced by atmosphere. When the air is clear we have a fine day and the fact is mentioned 1000,000,000 times in conversation. When the atmosphere is curdled, we have clouds and rain which are just as easy to talk about and use up a large vocabulary. When the atmosphere moves swiftly from place to place we have gales and cyclones and political campaigns. When the atmosphere is heated to a trifle below the boiling point by the sun, a man will leave his work and walk five blocks in order to lean against a friend in a cool, clinky place and help him say, "Pheew!"

The weather accounts for most of the variety in life on this sphere. It is weather which makes the Hottentot content with a suit of clothes which he can fold up and put in his ear while bathing, and it is weather which makes the Eskimo eject the polar bear from his warm furky skin and move in himself and stay continuously until he dies. It is England's weather and the wide range of description required to do it justice, which has made the nation the literary center of the world. It is the six months of superheated Texas weather which makes a Texan fight in September at the wiggle of a whisker, and it is the celebrated tepid climate of California which enables the native son to reap four crops of tourists a year.

Weather is divided into four seasons in the temperate zone—light overcoat, shirt-sleeves, thicker underwear and ear-tail weather. The weather is responsible for a great many millionaires, including coal men, ice men, summer resort proprietors and makers of sneeze cures and throat coolers. But it also makes a great many rich men, including circus owners, peach growers and cricken raisers. J. P. Morgan was supposed to boss a large part of creation, but he was small potatoes beside the weather, which exercises a controlling influence over baseball, crops, the clothing business, parades, picnics, county fairs and summer parks. It also casts the deciding vote in many elections and can tie up a railroad system more thoroughly than a dozen walking delegates. On the whole, weather must be an undesirable thing. We never hear of weather in heaven, while hell is supposed to consist almost entirely of climate.

Rev. P. J. Bame of Lexington occupied the pulpit at the Lutheran church yesterday morning.

NEW HOSPITAL TO OPEN

Drs. Guy F. Duncan and W. L. Jackson have leased the O. N. Richardson building on the corner of E. Washington and Steele streets and will convert it into a modern hospital. The building and location are ideal for a hospital and no doubt these gentlemen will make a fine success of the venture which both deserve as they are fine gentlemen and liked by all.

REMARKABLE SALE OF LAND MONDAY

Part of the Z. A. Burns estate was disposed of at auction here Monday by the famous twin auctioneers, the Penny Bros. A large crowd was present and the bidding was lively. The 100 front feet on North Main was divided into 4 lots and brought around $8,500, while the four lots on the back facing Jordan street totaled about $2,000. The property on Hamilton street and thereabouts sold for $24,000 in round numbers. The sale began at 11 o'clock and continued until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, closing one of the most successful sales ever recorded here. Penny Bros. know how to get the value out of real estate. Some of the buyers Monday were T. F. Wrenn, D. A. Stanton, W. L. Stamey, O. A. Kirkman, C. E. Reizel, S. S. Coe, E. K. Ingram, A. L. Burns, Wm. Tate, W. P. Pickett, C. L. Leonard, E. T. Harmon.

ITINERARY OF THE BANKHEAD NATIONAL HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

J. A. Rountree, secretary of the Bankhead National Highway Association, arrived at headquarters Monday morning after a two weeks' tour in an automobile, escorted by committees from various towns between Atlanta and Washington, inspecting the two proposed routes of the Bankhead Highway between those two cities. He has traveled over 1,400 miles, visited 60 odd towns and cities, delivered addresses in 48 towns, consulted with mayors, committees of chambers of commerce, automobile and good roads clubs in regard to the Bankhead Highway and arranged details with them in regard to the official path-finding party that will start from Washington on October 30th to officially designate the Bankhead Highway.

The tentative plan is for the party to leave the capital steps at Washington on Tuesday morning, October 30th, at 9 o'clock.

The pathfinders will inspect the Eastern route from Washington to Atlanta, passing through Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg and Clarksville, Virginia; Oxford, Hillsboro, Durham, Raleigh, Henderson, Greensboro, High Point, Lexington, Concord, Spencer, Salisbury, Charlotte, Gastonia, North Carolina; Spartanburg, Gaffney, Greenville, Anderson, South Carolina; Hartwell, Royster, Athens, Winder, Lawrenceville, on to Atlanta. The pathfinding party will stop at all these cities en route, make short speeches and be entertained at many of these places with banquets and luncheons.

After the party reaches Atlanta they will return to Greensboro, N. C., starting on an inspection trip of the Western route, which passes through Reidsville, North Carolina; Danville, Monte Vista, Lynchburg, Oak Ridge, Charlotte, Orange, Culpepper, Manassas, Alexandria, Virginia, on to Washington.

WILL PUT "PEP" IN THEM

Quantico, Va., Oct. 9.—To put "the fear of God" in 'o Boche hearts, the United States Marines in training here are practicing the old-time rebel yell. Confederate veterans, who take keen interest in the activities of the sea soldiers, are teaching the boys their battle-cry, reminiscent of civil war days.

It is thought that the blending of a cowman's "ee-yah" with the blood-curdling whoop of the Seminole will put "pep" in the Marine Corps charges sufficient to dislodge the Bochs from their trenches.

COUNTY HIT BY HIGH PRICES

Commissioners Say They Can Hardly Add More Expense at This Time.

The board of county commissioners feel that they must be economical in the spending of general funds during the next 12 months if the county is to live within its income. Chairman Boren made this statement Monday when the Board was considering a petition for the appointment of a county superintendent of charities and public welfare.

Commissioner Barber called attention to the fact that a bill for winter clothing for convicts amounting to $900 had just been approved. The same merchandise four years ago would not have cost over $300 to $400. This was only a part of the clothing that will be necessary for the men.

With a plea for the appointment of a county board of public welfare and a full-time county superintendent of public welfare, a large delegation of citizens appeared before the county commissioners.

The duties of the county superintendent would be as follows:

(a) To have, under control of the county commissioners, the care and supervision of the poor and to administer the poor laws.

(b) To act as agent of the State board in relation to any work to be done by the State board within the county.

(c) Under the direction of the State board to look after and keep up with the condition of persons discharged from hospitals for the insane and from other State institutions.

(d) To have oversight of prisoners in the county on parole from penitentiaries, reformatories, and all parole prisoners in the county.

(e) To have oversight of dependent and delinquent children, and especially those on parole or probation.

(f) To have oversight of all the prisoners in the county on probation.

(g) To promote the wholesome recreation in the county and to enforce such laws as regulate commercial amusement.

(h) Under the direction of the State board to have oversight of dependent children placed in said county.

(i) To assist the State board in finding employment for the unemployed.

(j) To investigate into the cause of distress, under the direction of the State board, and to make such other investigations in the interest of social welfare as the State board may direct.
